The News.

Pope's army has been skirmishing with the enemy, and retreating towards Frederickburg, but no battle has been fought, and has been rumored. It is not absolutely certain, either that Pope and McClellan have yet formed a junction.

We give further news from the Indian war. Dreadful massacres are confirmed, but we hope they are not so bad as at first reported. Fort Ridgely has not been taken.

Greeley and the President.

Horace Greeley, having published a long letter, signed by himself and addressed to the President, in which he complains that the latter has been remiss in his duty in enforcing the confiscation act, and recommending emancipation of the slaves, the President replies to him in a strange and unsatisfactory letter. We shall publish it to-morrow.

Mr. Lincoln succeeds, we think, in conveying the impression that he cannot save the Union without saving slavery; or, at least, that he does not intend to change his cautious, hesitating, border state policy.

The Expected Invasion of Kentucky.

Gen. Wright the commander of the new department of the Ohio, it is said, discredits the immediate invasion of Kentucky by large bodies of rebel troops, but apprehends that the enemy are massing a large army in East Tennessee. They may be preparing to strike at Kentucky from that quarter. Gen. Morgan, at Cumberland Gap, has been reinforced, and is entirely secure. Indiana and Ohio have sent 20,000 troops over the border within a few days.

The excitement in Kentucky is subsiding. A special to the Commercial, from Lexington, Kentucky, says:

An order was issued on Saturday to impress 1,200 slaves to repair the road between Lexington and Cumberland Gap. The impressment to be made in Fayette and Madison counties, loyal owners to be paid laborers' wages, and rebels referred to the department at Washington for settlement. It has not been found necessary to take loyalists' negroes. The rebels are in great distress, many of their negroes being taken while working in the hempfields. Loyalists commend the measure as just and wise. Other roads in different parts of the state will be repaired by impressing negroes in other counties.

INDIAN ALARM IN THIS STATE.—In consequence of the Indian outrages in Minnesota, the people of the north-western counties of this state fear the Chippewas may become troublesome, and have petitioned the governor to station a regiment among them. The governor not deeming this necessary has forwarded them some state arms and ammunition. The Chippewas, on account of their hereditary enmity towards the Sioux, are more likely to take sides with the whites.

25.—The paroled federal prisoners refused to go guard duty, on Saturday, at St. Louis, which produced considerable excitement. They considered it a violation of their parole. The refractory men, principally of the 3d Minnesota, were arrested by the provost guard. They ought to be sent to their own state to put down the Indian war, which would not be doing duty against those to whom they gave their parole.

A private letter received at Chicago by E. DeWitt Robinson, General Ticket Agent of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad dated "St. Paul, August 20th," says:

"There is great excitement here just now. The Indians are burning and murdering everything up the upper Minnesota river. This afternoon, as I now write, over thirty poor women and children are landing on the levee from Mankato, New Ulm and other towns. The Sioux at the Yellow Medicine murdered thirty-eight soldiers of the 6th Minn. Regiment, left there to guard the Yellow Medicine Agency.

A courier has just come to the Governor, asking for more men to be sent against the Indians. It seems to be the general opinion of the best informed of our citizens that it must have originated with the cursed secession of Missouri. Five companies of the 6th Regiment have left for the seat of war, but what can infantry do against mounted Indians? Mr. Galbraith, one of the Indian agents, says there are now under arms over ten thousand of the Sioux, besides other tribes from Northern Missouri. God only knows where this thing will end."

From the St. Paul Pioneer, Aug. 20.

The city was considerably excited yesterday and last evening by reports of murders committed by the Indians in Becker county, and the Agency on the Mississippi river. We have diligently traced these reports, and give the following as the substance of everything that has come in a reliable form up to a late hour.

MURDERS IN BECKER COUNTY.

The first news of the Indian raid was brought to the Governor by Mr. George C. Whitcomb, who resides at Greenleaf, Becker county, about thirty-five miles from Hutchinson. Mr. Whitcomb is the county treasurer, and a well known as a gentleman of trust.

He states that about one o'clock on Sunday last, seven or eight Indians came to the house of Mr. Robinson Jones, in the town of Acton, thirty miles northwest of Forest City. Mr. Jones soon discovered that their disposition was anything but friendly, and fearing for the safety of his family, he locked the doors of his house, and with his wife went to the house of Mr. Howard Baker, about a mile distant, and was followed by the Indians.

The Sioux, on arriving at the door of Mr. Baker's house, proposed to the inmates to go out on a short distance and shoot at a mark. An assent was given to the proposition, and the Indians led the way. When they were a short distance from the house, a signal was given, and the Indians turned and fired upon Mr. Robinson Jones, who was just outside the door. Howard Baker, Mrs. Jones, and a Mr. Webster, who were inside the door, fell mortally wounded. The Indian who fired at Mr. Jones missed, and fired again, the second shot taking effect. Mr. Baker told his wife, who was unhurt, to go down cellar with her child. She started to go, but when at the head of the stairs she fell down, and was insensible for some time. When she revived, the Indians were gone. She got a pillow and put under her husband's head who was still alive. He directed her to leave him and go to a neighbor's about a mile distant and give the alarm, which she did.

The people turned out and went to Baker's house, and found four persons dead—Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Howard Baker, and Mr. Webster. The child of Mrs. Baker was found in the house unhurt. It was an infant, only two years old.

When Mr. Jones left up his house to go to Mr. Baker's, he left a young girl, an adopted child, and the neighbors found, on going to Jones' house, that the Indians had returned and murdered her.

Mr. Whitcomb, who gives us these particulars, was engaged raising a company for one of our new regiments, and was at Forest City. He sent men out to the scene of the murders, who returned and verified the statements we have given. The settlers were rushing to Forest City in great numbers, but nobody had seen any other bands of Indians than those who committed the murders, and it is not known that any others were in the neighborhood.

MURDERS AT THE AGENCY—A COMPANY FROM FORT RIDGELY BADLY CUT UP.

Gov. Ramsey received yesterday afternoon the following dispatches from Lieuts. Gere and Culver, of the 5th regiment, stationed at Fort Ridgely:

HEADQUARTERS FORT RIDGELY, AUGUST 15.—S. P. M.

Commanding Officer at Fort Snelling:

Captain Marsh left this post at 10 1/2 o'clock to prevent Indian depredations at the lower Agency. Some of the men were killed, and a large number of the Indians are remaining.

The Indians are killing the settlers and plundering the country. Send reinforcements without delay.

Respectfully, THOS. P. GERE, 2d Lt. Co. B, 5th Reg. M. V.

P. S.—Please send this to Gov. Ramsey.

ST. PETERS, A. P. M., Aug. 19.

GOVERNOR—Sir: A second dispatch has arrived from the fort. Captain Marsh, on hearing of the fight at Red Wood, went with fifty of our company. Only thirteen came back. The captain was wounded and drowned.

The messenger is at the door and I close. I leave in half an hour for the fort with fifty armed men.

N. K. CULVER, 1st Lt. 5th Minn. Vols.

P. S.—Five hundred men are needed.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

On Friday morning, Major Galbraith left the agency, with W. H. Shelly, Esq., and about fifty men, volunteers, for Fort Snelling, to be mustered into the service of the United States. On Monday afternoon they arrived at St. Peter, and were overtaken by Mr. Dickinson, a messenger from Red Wood, who informed Major Galbraith that the Indians had commenced an attack on the people of Red Wood on Monday morning, at six o'clock, and that when he left that morning had been slain. Their names were James W. Lynde, formerly state senator, John Lumb, farmer; Wagner, the farmer; and three Germans, whose names were not given. Mr. Dickinson brought one of the wounded Germans to Fort Ridgely, twelve miles distant, and Dr. Miller pronounced him mortally wounded. When Mr. Dickinson got across the river from Red Wood, he saw the Indians firing into the traders' stores, and other buildings. About forty men fired into Merrick's store at once. Mr. Dickinson estimated the number of Indians engaged in the firing at about one hundred and fifty.

Major Galbraith, when learned what had taken place, turned back from St. Peter, and with his men started for Red Wood, and Mr. Shelly came down with the dispatches of Lieuts. Culver and Gere. When Major Galbraith left the agency everything was quiet. The Indians had received their annuity goods, and had all disappeared, apparently satisfied with the promise of the major to send for them as soon as the money arrived to pay off their annuities. It is thought that the Indians were induced to commit these outrages by Indians from Missouri, and a suggestion is made from St. Paul, that the Indians, as well as the families of the employees, are at the Yellow Medicine agency.

LATER ACCOUNTS.

Capt. Nelson Roberts, who returned last evening from New Ulm, reports that the people were packing up in that town and all along the frontier, leaving for St. Peter. Capt. Marsh's company was fired upon at the ferry opposite Red Wood, and it was reported by those who escaped that thirty-seven were killed and wounded. Capt. Marsh had been confined, but these reports have not been confirmed. Capt. N. Roberts started for New Ulm, with teams for Red Wood, and a short distance out met his brother Louis, coming down from the agency. The teamsters say they saw one man shot down in a field and another in the road, between Red Wood and New Ulm. Great fears were felt for the safety of the whites at the Upper and Lower agency. George Glenson and Dr. Humphrey were at Red Wood when Mr. Roberts left. The messengers with the money to pay off the Indians, were at Fort Ridgely. MEASURES TAKEN FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE FRONTIER.

As soon as news of the Indian troubles reached the city, Gov. Ramsey went to Ft. Snelling, and orders were given for four companies to ready to start at once for the scene of the disturbances. The command of the expedition was given to Col. George Sibley. The whole matter was confided to his discretion, and from his knowledge of the country and of Indian character, there can be little doubt of his success in preventing further outrages. We doubt, however, whether he will be able to find a single Indian when he arrives at the reservation. If he had one or two companies of cavalry he might possibly be overtaken. The mercenaries deserve such a measure of vengeance as they have never yet received, and we hope it will be administered in the style of Gen. Harney if they are ever caught.

Major Calkins finds Good Employment for a Negro Regiment.

The Leavenworth (Kansas) Conservative of Aug. 19th contains an order from Major E. A. Calkins, of the 3d Wisconsin cavalry, provost marshal of the city, calling on all able bodied men in the city subject to military duty, to meet and enroll themselves as active militia to repel apprehended attacks of guerrilla parties, on pain of arrest and imprisonment.

In another part of the same paper we find the following correspondence, which will explain itself. The 12th Kansas regiment referred to is one of Jim Lane's recent levies:

NOTE FROM MAJ. CALKINS TO MAJ. WEED.

PROVOST MARSHAL'S OFFICE, Leavenworth, Aug. 15, 1862.

Major T. J. Weed, A. A. G.:

SIR:—I hereby request the privilege of placing in the camp of the 12th (colored) regiment, such persons of secessionary principles as are arrested for refusing or evading obedience to the call for the militia of the city to organize and drill; the prisoners being well guarded, and on such furlough duty as may be required in and about the camp, and to be held till further orders.

I am, Major, respectfully your obedient servant, E. A. CALKINS, Maj. 3d Wis. Cav. and Provost Marshal.

MAJ. WEED'S REPLY.

OFFICE OF RECRUITING COMMISSIONER, Department of Kansas, Leavenworth City, Aug. 15, 1862.

Major E. A. Calkins, Provost Marshal:

SIR:—In compliance with your request contained in your note of this date, Capt. J. M. Williams, commanding the 12th regiment Kansas volunteers (colored), has been ordered to receive, guard, and discipline such prisoners as you may send to his camp. For your information I enclose a copy of said orders.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant, T. J. WEED, Major and A. A. G.

Adjutant General's Order for the Negro Regiment to Accept the Prisoners.

[General Order, No. 9.]

Extract.

V. Capt. J. M. Williams, commanding the 12th regiment volunteers, (colored), is hereby directed to receive into the camp of said regiment, and strictly guard and discipline all persons who may be delivered to him as prisoners, by the order of Major E. A. Calkins, provost marshal of this district.

By order of JAMES H. LESTER, Com. of Recruiting.

T. J. WEED, Major and A. A. G.

The Conservative has the following paragraph on the subject:

THE CALKINS WAR POLICY.—Read the correspondence in another column between Majors Calkins and Weed. The question, "what shall we do with the negro?" is at last answered. They are to try their luck in guarding rebels. There are three hundred rebel prisoners at the fort, and we suggest to Capt. Graham the propriety of relieving the soldiers now engaged in guarding them, and handing it over to the blacks. Let those who believe that slavery is a divine institution have a little taste of it—and with black masters.

In another column of the paper is an advertisement for one thousand colored men to form a regiment "to aid in suppressing this slaveholders' rebellion." It is also added that "every colored man enlisting, who may have been claimed as a slave, will receive, in addition to his rations, a certificate of freedom."

MORNING DISPATCHES.

New York, Aug. 23.

The Times' Washington dispatch has the following important paragraphs relative to the scarcity of arms for the new troops. Not long ago it was discovered that the secretary of war, with his rigorous way of doing things, had stopped enlistments for our volunteer service, just at the time when enlistments were most needed. It should turn out that the blunder in breaking off all the gun contracts was of equal magnitude, it will not be because the secretary of war is not actually attempting to rectify it. Arms in abundance might have been ready now, of our own manufacture. As it is, we are dependent on captured carriages, and on going into the foreign market.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.

Times' Despatch.—It is stated that Col. Rodney Mason either has been or is to be speedily cashiered for his surrender of Clarksville, Tenn. This officer commanded the second Ohio at Bull Run, and some charges against him found place in the Ohio papers, shortly after that battle. At Clarksville, Tenn., he was again accused of bad conduct, though not by Gen. Sherman as recently stated. An elaborate defence of his conduct was presented during the debates in the last session of congress by the representative from his district.

The Times has the following:

RECEIVED STATION, Fort Snelling, N. Y., Aug. 22.

8 A. M.—An officer attached to General Pope's headquarters has this moment arrived, and says: A general engagement is not really expected to-day, although our forces are in readiness.

9 A. M.—The cannonading is now frequent and is interspersed with musketry, but is further to the right, up the river where Sigel's command is at work. The main baggage train commenced passing this station at six o'clock this morning, and has taken the road for Warrenton Junction. Sigel's baggage train is now passing up the same road. This is only a precaution against disaster, and must not be taken as an evidence that our army expects to get whipped.

The following is a recent letter from the secretary of state to the British charge d'affaires:

THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.

SIR:—Having informally understood from you that British subjects, who had merely declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, had expressed apprehensions that they might be drafted into the militia, under the late requisition of the War Department, I have the honor to acquaint you for their information that none but citizens are liable to military duty in this country, and that this department has never regarded an alien, who may have merely declared his intention to become a citizen, as entitled to a passport, and consequently has always withheld from persons of that character such certificate of citizenship.

I have the honor to be with high consideration, sir, your obedient servant, W. M. H. SEWARD.

To Hon. Wm. H. Seward, Sec. of State: First Lieut. Ulysses Westbrock, of 32d regiment Ohio volunteers, having, while in command of a picket, allowed three men to pass beyond the lines, where they were ambushed and one reported killed, the President has directed his name to be stricken from the rolls.

Owing to some dissatisfaction among the troops of the Empire brigade at East New York, a riot occurred Saturday afternoon. Their barracks were torn down and a hotel gutted. Several officers were beaten, and many soldiers badly hurt. A militia company and 100 marines were sent to aid the police in quelling the riot.

The militia fired into the crowd, killing the sergeant major of one of the regiments. Police Inspector Folk, of Brooklyn, was badly cut in the head with stones, and many policemen were injured also. The troops generally stampeded to Brooklyn and New York city, and in the evening only about 100 out of 2,000 were in camp. Many have been arrested, and since returned to camp. The whole affair is said to have grown out of non reception of bounties.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

St. Paul, Aug. 25.

The half breed interpreter, Antonio Freuter, volunteered to make a second trip to Fort Ridgely, disguised as an Indian on the war path. He got into the fort through the masses of Indians surrounding it, on Thursday morning, and left the same evening and made his way to Henderson with the very latest intelligence we have received.

A messenger from Henderson says that Emory will return to the fort, and will probably give the inmates such assurances of relief at hand as to induce them to hold out. There can be no surrender without annihilation, and the inmates of the fort know this. Ex-Gov. Sibley and force were at St. Peters, 4 o'clock Saturday morning. St. Peters is nearly 50 miles from Fort Ridgely and Col. Sibley can hardly reach the fort before Sunday evening.

Col. Cullen, with several hundred cavalry, proposed to strike across the country from Henderson, and may get to the fort before the infantry force.

It is believed the Indians will get information of the force advancing against them, and hastily leave the fort.

Col. Cullen writes that the farther he advances the news becomes worse. All the inhabitants of the country are flocking into the towns.

Hon. G. B. Cleveland writes on the 21st from Mankato. He staid in New Ulm last night, and saw the most horrible sights. "I saw the bodies of eight stalwart men with their throats cut from ear to ear, their skulls battered and limbs mutilated. Some of them I knew well as good citizens of Brown county."

The bodies of many known to be killed have not been brought in. My own opinion is that not less than five hundred have been massacred. Large portions of Blue Earth and Brown counties have been depopulated. Thousands of persons have left their wheat unstacked in the field, and are flying eastward. For God's sake, send us men and arms."

Mr. Goodell, superintendent of farms at Yellow Medicine, arrived Saturday night from Glencoe, and brings the welcome news that 62 persons supposed to have been killed are safe. Among the party were 12 women and children and 20 men. Mr. Goodell knows that they are safe. Among them are Mrs. Galbraith and family, Mr. Sinks and family, Mr. Gibbons and family, Mr. Goodhue and family, R. Rider, John German, Mr. Wilder, Mr. Ramsey, Mr. Hawkins, Parker Pierce, Mr. Ashley, Mr. Patwell and family, Mr. Hadden and family. As regards the fate of the missionaries he thinks about forty families between Lacquette and the agency are killed. He
